

Lanoga Corporation Purchases Central Kansas Truss

For Immediate Release

May 26, 2005

(Redmond, Washington) Redmond based Lanoga Corporation announced today the purchase of substantially all the assets of Central Kansas Truss, Inc., a large independent truss and component manufacturer based in Valley Center, Kansas.

Lanoga President and CEO, Paul Hylbert, said, “We are very excited about having the CKT team join our United Building Center division. Jim Hedden and Jeff St.Clair, the prior owners, have done a terrific job of serving builders in Wichita and the surrounding market. We will be looking to support their growth, particularly in serving our other UBC facilities in Kansas”.

Dale Kukowski, UBC President stated that “We are pleased to welcome the team of 85 capable CKT people to our organization and look forward to working with Jim and Jeff in expanding the strong base of business that they have established.”

Terms were not disclosed.

###

About the firms:

Central Kansas Truss, founded in 1990, manufactures trusses, panels and other components in 58,000 square feet on 6 acres in Valley Center, Kansas. United Building Centers (UBC), with corporate headquarters in Winona, Minnesota, operates 200 distribution and manufacturing, facilities in 17 Midwestern to the Mountain states. In addition to UBC, Lanoga has four other divisions including Spenard Builders Supply in Alaska, Lumbermens in the Pacific Northwest, Home Lumber in Colorado, and Dixieline in Southern California.

For more information on the companies, please go to:

www.unitedbuldingcenters.com

www.lanoga.com